CAMcad has been a key CIBA Vision technology provider for the past two years, providing specialized automation solutions. The software development entrusted to CAMcad is the crux of a multi-faceted design and manufacturing automation project. Our application is proprietary in nature such that we cannot provide details. However, we can make the following statement:

We are impressed with CAMcad's promptness, professionalism, and abilities to convert our complex manufacturing automation requirements into high quality software. The software that CAMcad developed is a key element to the success of our products going forward. We have no hesitation to recommend their services to anyone who has manufacturing automation needs.
